To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to take this opportunity to highly recommend the Give Nation Compassion Class Curriculum. For me, I love the fact that it teaches compassion to students, in a time when many students spend so much time with digital devices, that I feel that we have forgotten how to relate to others in a kind way.

This curriculum uses so many different avenues to teach not only compassion, but also financial skills. There is something to help every different kind of learner to comprehend and embrace the ideas taught. The lessons are engaging and fun, and reaches out to every student in a personal way. I am very impressed with this curriculum, and I can't wait for it to reach more students, in more schools, around the world.

Sincerely,
